Service Information Sheet

Health Safety & Environmental Manager (Offshore)

Objective

Developing Environmental Health and Safety (EHS) policy in a maritime environment and advising the client on these topics.

Description

Disc's EHS managers have been trained to be junior or senior safety specialists. Additionally, they have completed the industry-required/desired training and have theoretical knowledge as well as practical experience.

These professionals are accustomed to working and thinking in an offshore culture; and are, thus, independent, practical, and flexible by nature. They can be brought in to develop or implement your EHS policy in all facets. They are also familiar with current risk identification systems such as HAZID and Safety Cases, for example.

Below are some of the services offered:

- Advice based on legislation and international codes/standards (OHSAS, NFPA, BSS, etc.).
- Systematic identification of design, construction, and use-related risks.
- Development and implementation of your EHS policy based on the items previously mentioned.
- Development of EHS plans, emergency procedures and associated training programs.
- Establishment of an incident management system via: reporting – analysis – recommendation & best practices.
- Organization of courses, instruction, workshops etc. for promoting safety awareness.
- Participation and advice on topics and activities related to risk management.
- Conducting (management) of inspections and internal audits.
- Setting up of activities and advising on emergency preparedness and in-house emergency and first aid service.
- Periodic reporting and evaluations to management.
- EHS contact person for internal and external parties (Labor Inspector, NMI, etc.).

If desired, the set of services can be customized after consultation with the client.

Upon receipt of written confirmation of the job, we will coach our workers based on your expectations, and the work in collaboration with you will begin.
